most recent paw print

BAIL: $10,000

CHARGE: Possession of stolen property

Suspect description: Echo - 40 lb female blond Lab. Also known as the "little blond chicken that could."

Synopsis: A precious, one of a kind little red squeaky fire hydrant ("The Squeaky") toy was entrusted to uncle Tato Oros. The Squeaky was last seen under Tato's nose before it was stolen. Surveillance cameras captured the suspect in possession of the stolen Squeaky. Echo is "a canine of interest" and is wanted simply for questioning before The Squeaky is torn to shreds. The suspect may have sprained a paw as she jumped and ran from the Squeaky when the Squeaky let out a "SQUEAK" in self defense.

If seen, do not attempt contact, as she is afraid of cows, people walking down the driveway, riding in the truck and just about everything else!
